To whom it may concern

This is a recommendation letter I have the pleasure of writing for Mr. Naveenraj Kamalakannan, who spent a summer as a trainee in our facility in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Zeeco Middle East Ltd. was preparing to participate in the activation of a global ERP system for Zeeco Inc. Since the actual installation of the software system and its development plus the seamless migration of archived data into the new system was going to take a long time, we elected to build a mini localized system to take care of our management of the flow of work in the interim.

This is where Mr. Naveenraj Kamalakannan entered the picture. We appreciated his taking time from his vacation to assist us. I immediately recognized some qualities in him which made working with him a pleasure!

- He is calm
- He is alert and focused on the subject being discussed or scrutinized
- Endless patience for a young man his age was surprising to me
- Hard worker, meeting deadlines.
- As we progressed his Skill assets became apparent to us and our confidence in him was elevated
- His Social assets were in-tact and he got along with the different heads of the departments and very well

We appreciated his punctuality and doing what he promised to do.

I recommend this young man, without any reservations, for any endeavor he undertakes to anybody who might offer him a position or a project. I believe he will go far, be it in his studies or in his career. I am honored to have met him.
